DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's Information Disclosure Statement (IDS) Form PTO-1449, filed 17 September 2003. The information disclosed therein was considered.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: In the first paragraph on page 1, the status of U.S. Pat. Appl. No. 10/008,409 needs to be updated; specifically, said application has matured into U.S. Pat. No. 6,643,206.

Appropriate correction is required.

3. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: Said claim recites three times the phrase "a redundant row of memory cells" in lines 4, 5 and 10; however, they appear to be referring to the same thing. It is suggested that the limitation "a redundant row of memory cells" in line 5 be moved between lines 2 and 3, and correct the antecedent basis problems in other occurrences of the phrase in the claim.

Appropriate correction is required.

4. Claim 38 is objected to because of the following informalities: Said claim recites three times the phrase "a redundant row of memory cells" in lines 3-4, 5 and 10; however, they appear to be referring to the same thing. It is suggested that the limitation "a redundant row of memory cells” in line 5 be moved between lines 2 and 3, and correct the antecedent basis problems in other occurrences of the phrase in the claim.

Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

5. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

6. Claims 1-61 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-29 of U.S. Patent No. 6,317,370. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because:

Claims 1-37 are anticipated by claims 1-29 of Patent ‘370, since fuses and antifuses recited in claims 1-29 of Patent ‘370 are species of “current path modifying means” and “further current path modifying means” recited in claims 1-37.

Claims 38-61 are anticipated by claims 1-29 of Patent ‘370, with the exception of a fast/slow antifuse to delay the row address strobe signal (instead of a fast/slow fuse recited in claims 1-29 of Patent ‘370). However, it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to substitute a fast/slow antifuse for the fast/slow fuse in claim 1-29 of Patent '370, since an antifuse and a fuse are equivalent means of changing current path, well known in the art.

7. Claims 63-76 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 5-10 and 17-25 of U.S. Patent No. 6,643,206. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because:

Claim 63-76 are anticipated by claims 5-10 and 17-25 of Patent '206, with the exception of a fast/slow antifuse to delay the row address strobe signal (instead of a fast/slow fuse recited in claims 5-10 and 17-25 of Patent '206). However, it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to substitute a fast/slow antifuse for the fast/slow fuse in claim 5-10 and 17-25 of Patent '206, since an antifuse and a fuse are equivalent means of changing current path, well known in the art.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

McElroy (U.S. Pat. No. 4,687,951) discloses fuse links for varying chip operating parameters.
